

CLASH COURSE

Ready to rethink neutral make-up? A flash of colourful eyeliner is where you'll see the biggest impact, especially if you offset it with a powdery pink cheek. "What makes this look so striking is the stark contrast between the opaque, paint-like colour used to shape the eye, and the soft, muted blush," explains Moore.

NEW DIMENSIONS

Metallics are huge for summer but instead of lustrous lids, move the trend to the lips by layering a combination of satin, shimmer and liquid textures onto a lightly hydrated mouth. "Then watch it magically transform with a prismatic gloss," says Moore. It's a small gesture that guarantees your lips will shift from one holographic hue to another.
