From flash-mob pouts to skinny plaits: introducing SS17's showstopping trends

Sunshine state

Could there be a happier colour combo than peach, orange and yellow? They're the shades of hot sunshine, a reminder of summer's first Aperol Spritz. Fashion East ramped up that carnival feeling with orange merging into yellow for eyes like sunsets. Missoni's more wearable take on the trend saw burnt oranges blended up towards the brow line. And consider the orange lip to be the summer-ready alternative to your classic red – we'll be pairing Mary Katrantzou's tango pout with a tan.

Ol' blue eyes

Go bold or go home was the message of the season, as a sea of aqua shades from deep petrol to bright sky blue (and everything in between) swept across the runways. Arctic lips popped on models at Thom Browne, while a swoosh of elongated shadow at Victoria Beckham nearly caused a Twitter meltdown. If you fancy dipping your toe into the big blue, try a navy cat-eye flick à la Chromat, or apply a simple slick of liner just above the eyelid crease for an edgy Westwood-inspired look.

Half time

You might be thinking, 'This one's easy. I've been pulling my hair into a half bun or ponytail ever since school gym class.' And you would be right – it's just a bit more directional for SS17. Whether you tease the heck out of your hair at the crown, as seen at Dion Lee and Zac Posen, or add texture with curling tongs and volumising spray like at Tory Burch, all you need is an invisible hair tie and a few minutes. Simply sweep it back, pull out a few face-framing tendrils and secure. What's not to love? ►
