We all know the power of a clip or a slide to detract from 'really should have washed it yesterday' hair. Now take your inspiration from low ponytails wrapped in belts at Tibi, whimsical swatches of lace at Rodarte, slogan slides at Ashley Williams and hair bobbles that wouldn't be out of place on the 80s club scene at Chanel. Girlie hair accessories just got a cool-over.

Cara had better watch her back, there's a new bushy-browed model on the block in the near-perfect form of Denmark's Line Brems (@lineobrems). She tore up the runway at some of the hottest shows this season – think Vuitton, Dolce and Saint Laurent,

Baby braids

OK, plaits for summer are hardly revolutionary. But what's new is that they're skinnier than ever – whether you opt for Cavalli's sleek face-framing pieces, French plaits worn high on the head as seen at A Détacher, or the tiny, wispy braids that Eugene Souleiman, Wella Professionals' global creative director, created at Preen by Thornton Bregazzi. 'Instead of basic low braids, I used several different styles, from twisted rope to three-strand braids, randomly placed to add another level of interest,' he says. Piece of cake, right? ■
