ALTUZARRA

Matchy-matchy make-up

Much like a stylish twinset, the idea is to use coordinating shades from the same colour palette to play up your look. Linda Cantello, international make-up artist at Giorgio Armani, went for a hat trick with a shimmering pink shade on eyes, lips and cheeks: 'We revisited pastel pink in weightless textures shot through with iridescent highlights to add force and modernity to a soft pretty look,' she says. Over at Altuzarra, a bold tangerine lipstick was used over eyelids and paired with peachy bronze cheeks. Similarly, warm coppery and earthy tones played nicely together at Antonio Marras for a sun-kissed look, regardless of skin tone. ►
