SMOULDERING SUNSET MAKE-UP

GOLDEN HOUR EYES

That hazy golden light before the sun sets doesn't just bathe skin in a candlelit glow, it's the perfect eyeshadow palette for summer '21. Gilded shades that are blurred out, like a smoky eye that's been slept in, is the current mood and made easy with Byredo Eyeshadow 5 Colours in Dysco. Black eyeliner ensures those sun-baked shades take on a luxe vibe. Chanel make-up artist Zoë Taylor recommends ringing the eyes with kohl eyeliner first and then using Chanel Les Beiges Healthy Glow Natural Eyeshadow Palette in Intense over the top. "Add the darkest shade into the crease and over the liner, blending well. The metallic gold and copper add sheen to the lid – also dab a little on the centre of the lower lashes. Use the lightest shade as a highlighter. Apply along the brow bone and to the inner corners of the eyes to make them appear bigger, buffing the powder into the skin until there is just enough left to catch the light. Then finish with mascara."

JUICY LIPS

All hail the bright juicy lip! Coral and hot pink light up the face like nothing else. And those not too matte, not too glossy satin lipsticks are an effortless way to do a lip right now as they eschew lip liner and look better slightly smudged on. Rouge Hermès Satin Lipstick in Coral Aqua has just the right amount of sheen and colour pay off; Gucci Rouge de Beauté Brilliant Lipstick in 402 is packed with hyaluronic acid for extra plumping and Westman Atelier Squeaky Clean Liquid Lip Balm in Ma Puce has a gel-oil formula for a translucent veil of fuchsia that looks just as pretty on lips as it does dabbed onto cheeks.

BALMY SKIN

Sheer make-up tints and next-to-nothing skin aren't going anywhere – if anything, they're getting an update for summer. According to Vincent Ford, global make-up artist for Nars, "It's all about shimmer-free highlights that resemble dewy cheekbones." Enter the brand's Euphoria Face Dew, which Ford likes to "layer underneath foundation for a glass-like, lit-from-within glow by pressing it on the high points of the cheekbones, the bridge of the nose and apples of the cheeks." As for a lightweight base, try Huda Beauty GloWish Multidew Skin Tint, which uses light-reflective pigments to blur pores, or Dolce & Gabbana Solar Glow Cushion Foundation to recreate luminous '90s supermodel skin.
